

HANNE BAK PEDERSEN

PROFILE

Ms Hanne Bak Pedersen leads the Health Technology and Pharmaceuticals programme (HTP) at WHO Regional office for Europe.

WHO/Europe supports countries in their development of policies and guidance linked to access to and responsible selection and use of quality assured medicines and medical products. For more information about the HTP programme see the 2017 annual.

Prior to joining WHO she was working as Deputy Director, Programme UNICEF Supply Division overseeing health sector supply innovation and development support as well as leading UNICEF's efforts to improve access to essential health products and services addressing key challenges facing vulnerable children and families.

She holds a Master Degree in Science and Pharmacy and Diploma in International Health, Tropical Medicine and Hygiene.